

TOLDO, O., June 11.—A remarkable case of suspended animation has just been brought to light in this city. Two years ago Hugh McIntyre, a young Irishman living in Detroit, married a daughter of Mrs. Cunningham, who resides here. A fortnight ago he presumably died and his remains were placed temporarily in a vault at Detroit. Eight days after an uncle visited the vault with the intention of removing the body to the Cemetery, and was shocked to find the man still living. The body lay in the glass of which was broken. Young McIntyre was very weak and pale. His hands were swollen and very long, but he was able to move them. He was at once removed to the hospital, where the doctor found the man was terribly frightened at his appearance after having mourned him as dead. The funeral was held at the residence of the family, the story leaked out they admitted the truth.

CHURCH COLUMN.

GOSPEL GLEANINGS FROM THE VARIOUS PASTORAL FIELDS.

Rev. H. S. Williams Called to Chicago.—The Southern Investigation—Youths' Christian Association—Archbishop Kenrick's Baltimore Trip—Notes and Personal.

The sudden change that Prince Bismarck has experienced toward the Vatican has set German Catholics in St. Louis, as elsewhere, talking considerably about the motives that impelled the Chancellor to this step. An Episcopal minister of the class in St. Louis has enjoyed for years an intimate acquaintance with Bismarck's plans through reading daily the statesman's German organ. In the years gone by ere Bismarck had risen to "shape the whisper of a throne," he enjoyed a personal friendship with the great German and remembers the speeches he made in 1849-50 in the dawning of his career in the Prussian Parliament. This gentleman, whose former personal relations with the Prince constrained him to refuse to let his name be published, explained to a POST-DISPATCH reporter this sudden change of front on the part of the "man of blood and iron." "It is very plain to me," he said, "that Bismarck is expecting a great war between the Conservatives and the Socialists. He prophesied such an outbreak in the speeches of his early career, which I recollect distinctly; not in so many words did he predict war, but in a general prophecy. Now, he assumes that France will join with the Socialists in Germany, and among the Catholics. Knowing the vast influence of the Catholic Church in France, he is now seeking to forestall such an event by securing the friendship of the Vatican. So it appears that Bismarck is seeking to secure the friendship of the Pope as a prelude to getting on good terms with the Pope. All these prophecies he has been giving the Holy Father for services rendered in that direction can be easily seen through. They are nothing but overtures for the continued support and assistance of the Vatican."

A PRIEST'S ERROR.
The peculiar feature of prayers being said over the same person by an Episcopal clergyman at the house, and by a Catholic priest at Calvary cemetery, caused an opinion to be obtained from Chancellor Vander Sander of the arch-diocese. He said it was entirely improper and was no doubt caused by the priest being ignorant that a Protestant had officiated. If he did know it, he should have had nothing to do with it. In the case of allowing non-Catholics to be buried in Catholic cemeteries, the Chancellor said, and in this country mixed marriages are so numerous, it is quite difficult to insist upon exclusion. But where a non-Catholic is thus buried, the priest becomes a witness to the ground, and exempt from non-Catholic intrusion under all circumstances. Contrary to general opinion, the Chancellor said, the error in this particular case was not so grievous.

THEY WANT WILLIAMS.
There is another prospect of the ranks of the St. Louis ministry being depleted, and this time the loss is liable to fall upon the Presbyterian ranks. Rev. H. S. Williams, pastor of the North Presbyterian Church, at Eleventh and Chambers streets, has just received a unanimous call to the First Presbyterian Church of Englewood, that charming suburb of Chicago. The church is really in Chicago, Englewood really being thirty-six streets and only seven miles from the city Court house. Its membership is 400 and as the suburb is growing rapidly the prospects for a steadily increasing membership are good. Should the flattering opportunities present themselves favorably to Mr. Williams, a general regret will pervade the Presbyterian circles of the city, as he has become one of the most popular ministers of the city. He has been in St. Louis but five years, but in that time he has built up the North Church from a small organization of 188 members to a large and flourishing society with a membership of 400. Not only that, he has become identified with the mission work of the city, and last year, single-handed, and alone, he preached four Sundays in July at Pope's Theater, achieving a success that has been the Evangelical Alliance to its present missionary endeavors.

WILL IT BE DROPPED?
Recent action taken by the Board of Shakers Emeth Congregation shows into what a tangle their affairs have got. This action is calculated also to reflect upon the importance of the work of the investigating committee appointed to look into rumors touching Rabbi Sonnenschein. This committee was constituted, it was understood to investigate, among other things, the rumors that Dr. Sonnenschein had made overtures to the Unitarians that amount to apostasy. The committee had scarcely been made up and the counsel for each side secured, when the Shakers Emeth congregation, this week passed a resolution favoring the appointment of a committee of three for no other purpose than to investigate these rumors regarding his step toward Unitarianism, and to secure the opinions of the leading rabbis of the country as to whether such conduct of Dr. Sonnenschein, if established, precludes him from officiating in a Jewish pulpit. The committee really the only one of the rabbis' opponents have urged against him, new committees of three appointed by Shakers Emeth will cover the ground of the first "investigation" committee to completely that latter committee will have so little to do that the investigation, which was announced with such a flourish of trumpets, will be abandoned.

Through the earnest efforts of the Executive Committee of the District Y. C. A., two sessions will be addressed by Mr. John C. Curran of Rochester, N. Y., National Secretary of the Y. C. A. of America, who has kindly consented to be present. Mr. Curran's long experience as a Christian worker among the youth of America, his deep religious assurance that his topics will be of deep interest. Owing to the occupation of Mr. Garrison at the gospel tent in South St. Louis, it was thought best to close the Saturday and Sunday evening services at the old Y. M. C. A. but it was found that the pressure of the congregation against closing was too strong, and so the exercises will continue.

While the Evangelical Alliance is getting together and doing a great deal of speculating about how to reach the Chinese in the town masses, the Baptists quietly go in and by uniting two churches, as described elsewhere, start a church with an audience of 300 assured. From the 20th to the 23d, at St. Patrick's school, Seventh near Chestnut street, there will be a fair for the benefit of the Sisters of St. Joseph, St. Vincent's, St. Laurence O'Toole's and St. George's parishes will be represented, as will St. Patrick's. A bazaar will be held in connection with the exhibit and a musical and literary entertainment each day at 3 and 7:30 p. m.

Archbishop Kenrick is making his arrangements to leave for Baltimore on the 20th to assist in the ceremonies connected with the Cardinals. He will be accompanied by Father Heuser, O. P. priest. On the occasion his grace will represent the Pope in conferring the hat upon Cardinal-elect Gibbons. The coincidence is observed that Archbishop Kenrick will confer the crown on the silver jubilee anniversary of the day on which his brother, Archbishop Francis Kenrick, conferred the order of priesthood on the future cardinal.

Several weeks ago the POST-DISPATCH announced that a Baptist Church would be formed at Sixth and Spruce streets as a result of Rev. Dr. Boyd's retiring of the old church at that point. The Central Baptist corroborates this prediction by saying this week: "On next Sunday afternoon [June 13] the Sunday-schools of the Walnut Street Mission and the Fifth Street Mission will unite in one school with about 400 pupils. A Baptist Church will be organized at this place with about 100 members and an assured congregation of about 300."

When the POST-DISPATCH exclusively announced that a petition was being circulated in St. George's parish to secure the resignation of Dr. Holland as the successor of Dr. Fulton, resigned, some wondered what would be the outcome while others were certain the object would be gained. These latter prophets seemed to have the first mortgage on the future, for the congregation has extended a unanimous call to Dr. Holland, who is now laboring at New Orleans. Six years ago Dr. Holland was the pastor at St. George's and it was under him that the magnificent edifice heading Chestnut street, on Beaumont, was reared.

Olive Branch Congregational Church, under Rev. Mr. Hicks, is just on the edge of better times. Originally begun but a short time ago as a mission, it has grown till it has unquestionably the largest Congregational Sunday-school in St. Louis.

Done all this growing under a debt that is now $100,000. The pastor was much surprised the other day when a trustee of the church, not a Christian, came to him and said: "Now, look here, I am interested in this work and I'll tell you I'll do it. I've got a dollar you raise I'll add a dollar. If you escape to $90, why behind you'll be gone." Inspired by this some steady work has been going on, and next Sunday the morning service, when the congregation will be asked to put their shoulders to the stone and roll it away from the door of their progress. There is no idea here, that a good sum will come from somewhere about Pilgrim Church.

Trial of Vian, Ringleader of the Revolt in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. MONTREAL, June 11.—The trial of Louis Vian, ringleader of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary revolt, was concluded at the Court of the Queen's Bench yesterday. He defended himself ably, making several of the witnesses against him contradict themselves. The charges were shooting with intent to kill the guard, Charrand, attempting to escape on the 24th of April, the day of the revolt, and escaping on the 6th of May. He pleaded guilty to the last count, but not to the others. He was closely watched by four guards, heavily armed and had shackles on his feet. Vian said that the Penitentiary was divided into two factions, and he also charged the guards with helping him to escape. The jury returned a verdict, guilty on both charges and the judge sentenced him to twenty-five years in the Penitentiary. He has still eight years of his original sentence to serve, so that if he undergoes the full term he will be 78 years old when he gets his liberty. It is supposed that he will be taken to the Kingston Penitentiary to serve his sentence, where the discipline is more strict than at St. Vincent de Paul.

VERY GLOOMY.

Gen. Benjamin F. Butler Expresses Himself on the General Political Outlook.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 11.—Gen. Benjamin F. Butler yesterday expressed himself at some length to the Post-Dispatch correspondent on the general political outlook. He declared civil service as a sham and thought the Democrats in Congress showed a lamentable want of cohesion. He believes the next Presidential campaign will be fought, as the last was, on the character of the candidates and the scramble for spoils. There will, he thinks, be no third party of consequence, as both sides will bid for the labor vote. Taking what he has a long range of things, he expressed the idea that the great preponderance of the South in the National Council would eventually prove disastrous, but just when no man could say. He referred especially to the fact that while the South pays but one-fifth of the taxes, she dominates the Presidency, the lower House, and soon will secure the Senate, all on a system of representation based on a suppressed negro vote. Trouble will come some day, he believes, when the South will rise up and demand to be treated as equals. He said that the North is losing during the war, the conflict may not be of the sword, but certainly be a business one of blood and treasure.

A CHURCH WAR.

Serious Trouble Threatened in the Polish Colony at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 11.—There is war among the Polish colony at Pittsburgh, arising out of the organization of the Polish Hussars of John III of Sobieski, in St. Adame's Church, South Fifteenth street, by Chas. D. Nowak. Mr. Nowak, after obtaining the consent of Bishop Phelan, enrolled thirty-seven members, but has met with strenuous opposition from Father Mikiewicz, the priest of St. Adame's. He claims that the priest at first gave his consent to the organization of the society, but afterwards, at the instigation of the members, withdrew it. Father Mikiewicz both last Sunday and the Sunday previous denounced the society from the pulpit, and said that the members were not Catholics and warning his congregation not to join it. The party feeling runs high. Father Mikiewicz says that he has received an anonymous letter threatening to blow his house up with dynamite or end his life in some way. Two of his supporters guard his home every night to keep away the dynamiters. On the other hand members of Nowak's party claim that the priest has armed his female supporters with knives with which all the Hussars are to be armed on Sunday morning. Father Mikiewicz proposes to organize a rival society to the Hussars, to be called the "Laski," which will be composed of strict Catholics.

ALL FOR A WOMAN.

A Young Man at Aspen, Colo., Shot and Fatally Wounded by His Rival.

DENVER, Colo., June 11.—At Aspen, last evening, W. O. E. Koch broke into the house of W. J. Miller, a real estate dealer, and was shot four times, twice in the head and twice through the body. He will die. Miller was arrested. The trouble, it is said, was a quarrel about a woman. The tragedy was not unexpected by friends of the parties, as both men had several times made threats to kill each other on sight. Miller is from Chicago where he has wealthy parents. Koch is from Toledo, O., where his father is a wholesale wine merchant.

THE BIG BOAT RACE.

GAUDAUER AND TEEMER WILL CONTEST THE AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIP TO-MORROW.

Yesterday's winners at the Spring Races—Gaudauer and Teemer—will contest the American Championship to-morrow.

Mr. J. A. St. John left the city last night for Chicago, to be present at the boat race on Lake Fullman between Gaudauer and Teemer which will be rowed to-morrow afternoon.

This race is the one over which there was so much to do last winter and in which so much actual money is put up and there is something tangible at stake. Mr. St. John further says that when the season is over he will undertake a series of exposures which will make interesting reading for those who take an interest in professional oarsmanship.

THE RACES.

A Great Crowd at the Fair Grounds Yesterday—The Winners—Gossip.

A lovely afternoon and an interesting racing card attracted about 10,000 people to the beautiful grounds of the St. Louis Fair Horse Department. The grand stand, with its lovely occupants, presented a more attractive appearance than any previous day of the meeting with the single exception of Monday. Both galleries of the club-house were well filled with the ladies of the city, while the betting ring and lawn presented almost a solid mass of humanity. The first race on the card was a dash of a mile for 3-year-olds, and brought out Wanderer, Hotentot and Mary Payne were not wanting in friends to put up their money at liberal odds. The race was a lively one, Mary Payne going to the front at the start and cutting out the work for the party for three-quarters of a mile. On the turn Wanderer, who had been laying up the rear, started having the money made a rub, and before he could be checked up was over Wanderer, with Stovall flying in the air. The dusky colt, however, fortunately, was unhurt.

The battle down the stretch home was between Syntax and Sir Joseph, the former passed under the wire a winner by half a length, in 1:48; Molly's Last, third.

The second race was a mile and a quarter for selling sires; the starters and betting was: Revolve, $150; King George, $75; Warington, $100; Lycarous, $45; Topsey, $145; Bootball, $30; Hilarity, $150; War Sign, $10; John Sullivan, $50, and Keene $45. The race was a great contest from start to finish and was captured by Warington who beat Hilarity by a short neck in 2:11; Topsey a good third.

The third race was Charles Green Stakes for 3-year-olds, one mile and a quarter. The starters (Duffy), Jim Gray (Conkling), Annawan (Johnson), the Bourbon (Wethers), Brookfield (Lewis), and Stovall (Stovall) and Preciosa (Kelly). Ben All, the Derby winner, was a tremendous favorite, selling for $600 in 800 pools, and the bookies who were satisfied with the result were Mr. Lewis himself and Mr. Davies, his manager. Mr. Davies pretended he wanted to match Lewis against him on equal terms, no doubt, under the impression that he would not make a match with him. He finally bluffed me into a match, which set the chances at a hundred to one in his favor.

and instructed Lewis to keep well away from me when wrestling, as he had really nothing to gain by throwing me. Mr. Lewis fully carried out his instructions, and proved to the audience that he could run backwards further in one hour than any man they had ever paid admission to see. My subsequent efforts with him were fruitless, and I now wish to publicly announce my willingness to make a match with him for the sum of five hundred dollars or three out of five falls, for stakes amounting to from $100 to $1,000, or for the game money alone; provided that the match shall be made on equal terms. I will give Mr. Lewis the privilege of naming date and place, also the amount of stake to be wrestled for. The style of wrestling to be governed by the standard Greco-Roman rules. WILLIAM MULDOON.
